Nazca lines and Paracas

The famous and mysterious Nazca lines exert an inexorable fascination. This extension combines an overflight of the markings with a visit to the natural wildlife sanctuary of the Ballestas Islands of Paracas.

Day 1: Arrive in Lima - Paracas

Departure from Lima at 1:30pm. Four-hour drive south on the Panamerican highway to Ica, wine and pisco capital of Peru, then another 2 hours from Ica to Nasca in deluxe bus service in the VIP section. Evening arrival for overnight and dinner at Maison Suisse hotel

Day 2: Nasca - Paracas

After breakfast, 45 minute flight by high-wing light aircraft over the desert and the mysterious Nazca lines (also known as Nasca markings), which can only be appreciated from air. Even though they are centuries old, why were they made and their purpose are still an enigma. After lunch, drive north by bus to Paracas for overnight at Las Dunas hotel.

Day 3: Paracas - Fly out from Lima

Paracas peninsula, embarking point of the boat ride to the Ballestas islands, inhabited by boobies, pelicans, sea lions and Humboldt penguins. The still-unexplained candelabro marking lines can be seen on the way. In the afternoon, return along the Pacific coast to Lima and transfer to your selected hotel.
